

Time and Space. On Hannah Arendt's Modes of Political Thinking

Ever since political scientists and philosophers started reading the works of Hannah Arendt, space has been regarded as one of the major components of her political theory. The concept of time as a mode of political thinking is usually rated as secondary to space – still it also bears an importance that must not be underestimated. The conference aims to establish a balance between these two factors.

Hannah Arendt's notion of public space provides a neat pattern for describing the peculiarities and hazards of the political. Nevertheless, an analysis of space alone cannot convey the complete picture of her concept of political action. It is only by the notion of time that Arendt involves further crucial elements. In order to exist, public space must rely on three dimensions of time: Past, present and future. First of all, the public space is rooted in the Here and Now, in the minuscule gap between past and future. Still: When acting in public space, persons are linked to the past by means of continuity of the narrative tradition. The web of stories, which thus emerges, ensures that public space will continue to be there in the future. Only in these processes, the political is furnished with its original form and contents. Without temporality, Arendt's thought would have to be blind and empty.

Going back to this two-fold origin of Arendt's political thought and connecting both renowned and emerging scholars of Arendt's works, the conference intends to cast a new light on various aspects of her theory that have been hidden in the shadow so far. This approach might contribute to a reappraisal of both the dangers and the possibilities inherent in the political that Arendt's thought brings to our minds in such a meaningful way.

Veranstalter

Lehrstuhl für Politische Philosophie und Ideengeschichte
Prof. Dr. Karlfriedrich Herb
Universitätsstraße 31
93053 Regensburg

Koordination: Mareike Gebhardt, M.A.

Mit freundlicher Unterstützung der
Regensburger Universitätsstiftung Hans Vielberth

Internationale Konferenz

Raum und Zeit. Denkformen des Politischen bei Hannah Arendt

Time and Space. On Hannah Arendt's Modes of Political Thinking

10.-11. November 2011 in Regensburg

Universität Regensburg
FAKULTÄT FÜR PHILOSOPHIE,
KUNST-, GESCHICHTS- UND
GESELLSCHAFTSWISSENSCHAFTEN

PROGRAMM

Donnerstag, 10. November 2011

Sorat Hotel Regensburg

- 9.00- 9.30 Begrüßung und Danksagung
- 9.30- 10.00 Durch Raum und Zeit.
Hannah Arendt neu lesen
Kartfriedrich Herb
- 10.00- 10.30 Being Present I
On the Political Dimension of Time and Space in Hannah Arendt's Thought
Kathrin Morgenstern/
Mareike Gebhardt
- 10.30- 11.00 Kaffeepause
- 11.00- 12.00 Reshaping Spaces.
Feminist Readings of Hannah Arendt
Magdalena Scherl
- 12.30- 13.30 Mittagessen
- 14.00- 15.30 The Gap. Arendt's Temporal Notion of Revolution
Oliver Marchart
- 15.30- 16.00 Kaffeepause
- 16.00- 17.30 Disclosure and Responsibility in The Human Condition
Garrath Williams
- 19.30 Gemeinsames Abendessen,
Restaurant Leerer Beutel

Freitag, 11. November 2011

Uni Regensburg, Großer Sitzungssaal (PT 3.0.79)

- 9.30- 10.30 Beyond Oikos and Polis.
Towards an Accommodation of Thinking in Hannah Arendt
Tobias Maier
- 10.30- 11.00 Kaffeepause
- 11.00- 12.30 Grenzen des Politischen
Hans-Jörg Sigwart
- 12.30- 13.30 Mittagessen, Uni Pizzeria
- 13.30- 15.00 Lieben oder Verzeihen?
Denkformen des Politischen bei Hannah Arendt
Gerson Brea
- 15.00- 16.00 Being Present II - A Summary
Kathrin Morgenstern/
Mareike Gebhardt

Rückfragen und Anmeldungen bis 12. Oktober 2011 an Mareike Gebhardt:
mareike1.gebhardt@politik.uni-regensburg.de

WEGBESCHREIBUNG ZUM HOTEL

SORAT Hotel, Müllerstraße 7, 93059 Regensburg
Telefon (09 41) 810 40

von der A93:

- Ausfahrt Regensburg-Pfaffenstein (Nr. 39).
- Richtung Regensburg-Stadtzentrum fahren.
- Ab Frankenstraße Hinweisschildern Oberer Wöhrd und Hotelletsystem folgen.
- 1. Ampelkreuzung links in die Würzburger Straße fahren.
- Anschließend zweimal rechts abbiegen (Alte Nürnberger Straße/Oberpfalzbrücke).
- Über die Oberpfalzbrücke fahren (Sie überqueren damit den Donaukanal).
- Dann rechts über den Pfaffensteiner Steg einen weiteren Arm der Donau überqueren.
- Gleich hinter der Brücke links in die Liebstraße abbiegen.
- Liebstraße bis zum Ende durchfahren - das Hotel liegt direkt vor Ihnen.

vom Hauptbahnhof:

Mit dem Taxi: Fahrpreis ca. EUR 11,00
Mit dem Bus:

- Ab Haltestelle Albertstraße mit den Buslinien 1 (Richtung Prüfening), 2 (Richtung Graf), 6 (Richtung Wernerkstr./Westbad) oder 11 (Roter-Brach-Weg) bis Haltestelle Thundorferstraße.
- Nach dem Aussteigen links orientieren und über die Steinerne Brücke gehen.
- Linke Rampe hinunter auf die Insel gehen.
- Das SORAT Insel-Hotel Regensburg liegt vor Ihnen.
- Fußweg ab Thundorferstraße ca. 10min.

Universität Regensburg

FAKULTÄT PHILOSOPHIE
KUNST- UND GESELLSCHAFTSWISSENSCHAFTEN

Institut für Politikwissenschaft

Universität Regensburg · D-93040 Regensburg

Prof. Dr. Karlfriedrich Herb
Lehrstuhl für Politische Philosophie und
Ideengeschichte

Telefon +49 941 943-3515

Telefax +49 941 943-1689

Sekretariat:

Telefon +49 941 943-3514

Telefax +49 941 943-1689

Universitätsstraße 31

D-93053 Regensburg

karlfriedrich.herb@politik.uni-regensburg.de

www.uni-regensburg.de

Veranstaltungsankündigung

Internationale Konferenz

Raum und Zeit. Denkformen des Politischen bei Hannah Arendt / Time and Space. On Hannah Arendt's Modes of Political Thinking

Mit Gastvorträgen von:

Prof. Dr. Oliver Marchart, Universität Luzern

Garrath Williams Ph.D., Universität Lancaster

PD Dr. Hans-Jörg Sigwart, FAU Erlangen- Nürnberg

10. und 11. November 2011

Ever since political scientists and philosophers started reading the works of Hannah Arendt, space has been regarded as one of the major components of her political theory. The concept of time as a mode of political thinking is usually rated as secondary to space. Still it also bears an importance that must not be underestimated. The conference aims to establish a balance between these two factors.

Hannah Arendt's notion of public space provides a neat pattern for describing the peculiarities and hazards of the political. Nevertheless, an analysis of space alone cannot convey the complete picture of her concept of political action. It is only by the notion of time that Arendt involves further crucial elements. In order to exist, public space must rely on three dimensions of time: Past, present and future. First of all, the public space is rooted in the Here and Now, in the minuscule gap between past and future. Still: When acting in public space, persons are linked to the past by means of continuity of the narrative tradition. The web of stories, which thus emerges, ensures that public space will continue to be there in the future. Only in these processes, the political is furnished with its original form and contents. Without temporality, Arendt's thought would have to be blind and empty.

Going back to this two-fold origin of Arendt's political thought and connecting both renowned and emerging scholars of Arendt's works, the conference intends to cast a new light on various aspects of her theory that have been hidden in the shadow so far. This approach might contribute to a reappraisal of both the dangers and the possibilities inherent in the political that Arendt's thought brings to our minds in such a meaningful way.

Die Tagung findet in englischer und deutscher Sprache statt.
Der Veranstalter bittet für beide Tage der Konferenz um Anmeldung:
Mareike1.Gebhardt@politik.uni-regensburg.de

Der Lehrstuhl für Politische Philosophie und Ideengeschichte freut sich über reges Interesse und eine lebendige Diskussion.

Prof. Dr. Karlfriedrich Herb und Mareike Gebhardt, M.A. (Koordination)

Weitere Informationen unter:

http://www.uni-regensburg.de/philosophie-kunst-geschichte-gesellschaft/politische-philosophie-ideengeschichte/medien/flyer_raum_und_zeit_neu.pdf

sowie

<http://www.uni-regensburg.de/philosophie-kunst-geschichte-gesellschaft/politische-philosophie-ideengeschichte/aktuelles/index.html>