

Friday, 18th of November, 2016

09.00 – 10.30 Republican and Communitarian Perspectives

Chair: Sybille De La Rosa

- Martin Corell (University of Erlangen-Nürnberg)
"Towards a Republican Justification of Voting Rights for Non-Citizens"

- Viktoria Hügel (Brighton University)
"Communitarianism beyond borders"

- Michael Haus (Heidelberg University)
"Why Liberalism and Human Rights are Part of the Problem"

10.45 – 11.45 Language and Refuge

Chair: Viktoria Hügel

- Melanie Frank (University of Augsburg)
"Citizenship as Multilingual Practice"
- Susanne Becker
(MPI for the Study of Religious and Ethnic Diversity Göttingen)
"Between right and constraint:
German-language learning as enabling violation"

11.45 – 12.45 Lunch

12.45 – 13.45 Democratic Exclusion

Chair: Paul Sørensen

- Franziska Martinsen (University of Hannover)
"Democratic Exclusion of Refugees.
The Demand for a Revision of Human Rights"

- Felix Bender (Central European University)
"Who should we grant asylum?"

13.45 – 14.00 Coffee Break

14.00 – 15.30 Keynote:

Julia Schulze Wessel (Dresden University of Technology)
"Questioning Democracy: What refugee studies can contribute to understanding the transformation of democracy"

Titelfoto: Jonathan Stutz/fotolia

Refugees and the Limits of Responsibility

Öffentlicher Vortrag von

Matthew J. Gibney

Professor of Politics & Forced Migration, University of Oxford

im Rahmen der Tagung

Political Theory on Refugees (17./18.11.2016)

Donnerstag, 17.11.2016, 17.30 Uhr
Evangelisches Forum Annahof

Im Annahof, 86150 Augsburg

Vortrag und Tagung in englischer Sprache

Anmeldung erbeten an melanie.frank@phil.uni-augsburg.de

Es laden ein: für das Netzwerk Flüchtlingsforschung die Tagungsveranstalterinnen Melanie Frank, M.A. (Universität Augsburg), Dr. Sybille De La Rosa (Universität Heidelberg) & Viktoria Hügel, B.A. (Universität Brighton)

Gesellschaft der Freunde
der Universität Augsburg

Fritz Thyssen Stiftung
für Wissenschaftsförderung

UNIA
Universität
Augsburg
University

Political Theory on Refugees

Thursday, 17th of November, 2016

09.00-09.20 Registration

09.20-09.30 Welcome Note

09.30 – 11.00 Political Theory and Judgment

Chair: Julia Schulze Wessel

- Sybilie De La Rosa (Heidelberg University)
"Refugees and Democratic Emancipation"
- Simon Oschwald/Paul Sörensen (University of Augsburg)
"Democratizing Political Theory –
Outlines of a non-victimizing Theory with Refugees".
- Colin Grey (Université du Québec a Montréal)
"Negotiating our Obligations to Refugees"

11.00 – 11.15 Coffee Break

11.15-12.45 Alterity, Participation and World Citizenship

Chair: Martin Oppelt

- Mareike Gebhardt/Florian Tatschner (University of Erlangen-Nürnberg)
"We Are Never Entirely at Home With Ourselves:
The Refugee Other Between Alienness and Alterity"
- Thorsten Nieberg (Berlin)
"Democracy and Refugee Participation:
What can we gain from Abizadeh's and Balibar's theoretical thoughts?"
- Dario Mazzola (Milan State University)
"World Citizens or Exiled?
The Paradox of Refugees as the Touchstone of Contemporary Globalization"

12.45 – 14.15 Lunch

14.15 – 15.15 Key Note:

Speakers from Grandhotel Cosmopolis (Augsburg)

15.15 – 16.45 Resistance, Protest and Emancipation

Chair: Melanie Frank

- Moritz Riemann (University of Kiel)
"Refugees between Need and Emancipation"
- Melanie Hartmann (University of Marburg)
"Räume des Politischen: Aneignung und Widerstand in Flüchtlings-Sammelunterkünften in Deutschland"
- Ana Lena Werner (Humboldt- University Berlin)
"Refugees, violence and political protest:
Questioning self-Harming practices with Hannah Arendt"

16.45 – 17.30 Coffee Break

17.30 – 19.00 Key Note (public):

Matthew Gibney (University of Oxford)

"Refugees and the Limits of Responsibility"

19.30 Dinner